

Lets start with the biggest thing that I really wanna make clear

The Blackmailing was an incident TOTALLY separate from the Kraf situation. Please stop bringing this situation up. It's a private issue that has been resolved privately already.

The person I threatened was someone who mentally strained me and my partner during a rough time in our relationship. (I had felt like I was being guilt tripped for dating my partner) It got to a point where I was begging and crying for him to remove full contact with me and Dee. We made a deal in private about a year ago. To never interact again and move on from each other. Like we never existed. We promised to forget about our existence. But they happened to reappear (even though we made a promise) when drama came around in my life (twice). So that's why I got defensive and threatened them. (even though I shouldn't). This person has done a lot of bad things towards me and Dee and I only got defensive out of fear. This was an ex friend of mine and he really fucked with me and my girlfriend mentally. He was a very bad friend during that time period. (intentionally or not) He has gotten better and I have talked to him and a friend of his as well in private, and we plan on talking all together to fix this situation as well.

So please, I only request to not bring this as an “AHA” moment against me, cause this is something that ive been a victim of for over a year. But everything else ill take accountability 100%.

(PLEASE NOTE : DO NOT GO AFTER THIS PERSON, the situation is being dealt with in private. And the things they did was only towards me and my partner (that I am aware))

Dee's side of the situation regarding the individual miyno 'threatened' to blackmail:

This person is not affiliated with the osc nor should our situation with him ever be incorporated into osc drama ever. The person whom miyno reasonably harshly reacted to is someone who was emotionally abusive to us a few years ago despite being a good friend to us for some time, switching up for the dumbest of reasons.

As for my side, this person began to act completely harsh towards me for the following reasons:

- Getting into a media that he simply didn't enjoy
- redesigning my sona (I kid you not, he claimed i whitewashed it, and when i said i didnt, he YELLED at me claiming me i did, when it wasn't his character design to judge.)
- just, overall, emotionally keeping me around and treating me like garbage. He would consistently make me feel bad for always making fan content and never creating “anything original”

Miyno's reaction was harsh but you need to realize the past we have with the person it was directed towards. And the fact he only came back into our lives while we were dealing with heated discourse is a problem in and of itself ESPECIALLY after he promised he would leave us alone over A YEAR ago. And the ENTIRE post made about my partner “threatening to blackmail people over shipping discourse” made things so much worse as i was actively in the process of talking to him before i even saw it.

Making things like this mainstream causes things to become so much worse especially when you post it with lack of context. The “Blackmail threats” had nothing to do with the osc, nothing to do with ship discourse, rather someone breaking a boundary and getting what was coming for them. It wasn't justified, and i had a long conversation with miyno about it, but PLEASE read the context before jumping to conclusions.

Now onto the Kraf situation.

I apologize for anyone who is friends or knows Kraf, I am sorry for being a complete douchebag and a moron and acting defensive on the ableism situation. I grew up being made fun of for my disabilities so I only reacted the way I always have. Which is totally wrong and not healthy at all, I do not excuse how I reacted at all. It was completely wrong. I did something very stupid. But I am learning. And I am actually getting therapy help on Friday actually :) Hopefully I'll be back on my meds by then as well!

But Dee and Kraf have got in contact and made up :) And hopefully Kraf also forgives me as well. Me and Dee forgive Kraf. I plan on talking with Kraf privately soon so hopefully that goes well.

I apologize for my stupidity and I am working on it :)

Also I apologize for my previous apology. It was rushed in a panic during class 😭

If anyone wants to discuss anything in private my DMs are open on twitter and Discord (Miyno_)

Also Dee is doing just fine! She got onto me and I learnt what I did wrong thanks to her. She is doing great and we are living a happy life currently :)

Dee's end Regarding Kraf & moving forward:

I had a nice, very humble conversation with Kraf and we left things off on very good terms and I wish her nothing but the best. I don't know if she and my boyfriend still want to talk but we'll see.

The post made about my partner initially was completely unnecessary and something that did nothing but escalate the situation further as I was in the process of talking to him before I was even aware of its existence. I HATED what I saw of him and I wanted him to do better, and it took us a while but we got there. That initial post putting my partner and i on blast not only disgusted me but it infuriated me as all but one of the screenshots in the thread had NOTHING to do with the ship discourse and rather past people from our lives trying to come back. I didn't need a wake up call to get on his ass and that tweet did nothing but cause more issues. Seeing people I considered friends contribute to the comments of that post only added more salt to the wound. You should have waited and listened to us and learned the full story before jumping to an immediate conclusion.

Miyno and i are both neurodivergent as fuck man we dont handle stuff like this easily obviously we're gonna fuck up but thats not a reason for any of us to be vilified for it, we want to learn just give us the room to do so. One thing I've learned before I left twitter is that no matter how genuine you are, people are gonna twist your words and that's sick.

I have no plans to return to this site :/ I wish you all the best. I left here disappointed. I'm much happier away from twitter. Friends can find me on discord or tumblr I guess. I wish you all well.

Love yall and take care!
